Assembly

1. Insert the support foot into the hitch tube and secure it in place with a large pin clip. The support foot has multiple hole positions for hitch height adjustment and is designed to transfer the load capacity from the hitch receiver to the ground.

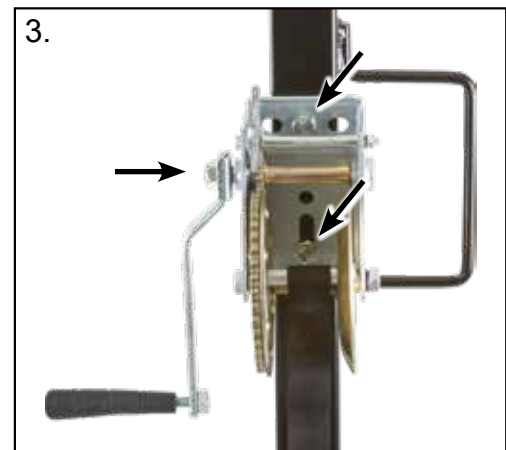

2. Slide the center support over the hitch tube assembly from Step 1, then secure in place with the small pin clip. When the small pin clip is removed, the hoist will be able to spin 360 degrees around this point (4 lockable positions).

3. Attach the winch handle and unwind the black lift strap completely.

Once the lift strap is unwound, bolt the winch with two long bolts to the center support.

4. Insert the support arm into the center support and secure in place with the last two large clip pins.

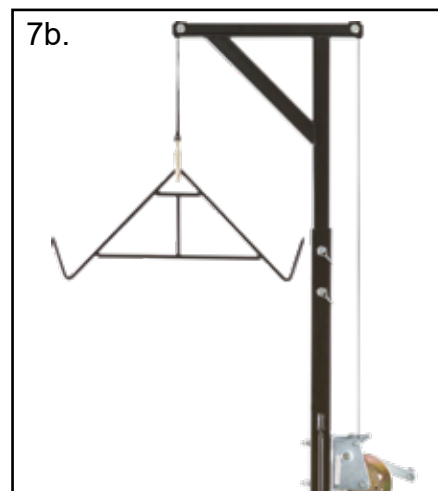

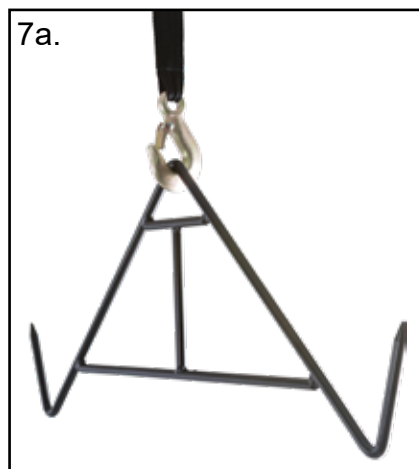

5. Loosen both pulleys from the support arm and remove the top plates.

6. Straighten the lift strap from the winch. Rest the strap on the rear and front pulleys with the hook end running off the front of the support arm. Pull out all the slack. Re-apply the top plates and tighten up both pulleys.

7. (Optional) For use as a deer hoist - Complete assembly by snapping the gambrel into the lift strap hook.
